

Diversity and Inclusion Statement

Diversity and Inclusion matter, and Pelvic Priestess believes that for true transformation to take place, you must first feel safe, belonged and valued.

Pelvic Priestess aims to cultivate a space where inclusiveness allows you to express, language, and centre your authentic lived experience. Pelvic Priestess desires to hold compassionate space that meets you where you are, as you are, seeking to empower yourself to connect with your body, sexuality and pelvic presence, regardless of your gender orientation, race, sexual preference, or religious affiliation.

Pelvic Priestess recognises the woeful lack of such care in sexual and pelvic care, and the damaging consequences. Therefore, Aurora has invested time, energy and resources into LGBTQIA+ inclusion and diversity trainings. Aurora actively seeks out diversity in those that she studies with, and to call for change. Aurora is committed to continuing her education and to doing the work to unpack privilege and bias in order to best serve her beautiful and diverse community.

Aurora understands that as a white, mostly cis-gendered person, she will have blind spots in terms of understanding a lived experience that she does not have. Aurora is willing to learn ways that she can better support, lift up and empower others as an ally and coach.

As Pelvic Priestess expands, Aurora will continue to address the new ways in which her company can be more inclusive.

Pelvic Priestess recognises that this diversity and inclusion statement is a small seed that must be nourished, tendered and loved for true sustainable growth. It is Aurora's heartfelt pelvic desire to listen to the wisdom song of it, and make the necessary and overdue changes in Somatic Sexuality and Pelvic Health that you deserve.
